

National University of Computer and Emerging Sciences

Department of Sciences and Humanities

Chiniot-Faisalabad Campus

Question 1

6.5/10 Marks

What are the basic principles of communication? Please provide relevant detail in the given space only.

i) Communication is for a purpose:- We communicate with people on following basis:-

- i) To meet social needs-
- ii) To develop and enhance relationships.
- iii) To influence or persuade someone.

Question 2

8 / 08 Marks

Read the given situation carefully and answer the questions. Avoid giving unnecessary or irrelevant information.

Background:

Anna is a Software Engineer who has been invited to present a project update to her company's executive team. She is an expert in her field and has all the information she needs to deliver an excellent presentation. However, Anna suffers from severe nervousness when speaking in front of a group of people. She worries that her nervousness will affect her performance and leave a negative impression on her colleagues.

i. How can Anna overcome her nervousness during the presentation?

Anna can overcome nervousness by following some simple steps. First of all, be confident and take a deep breath. She can use open and wide gestures which will help her tackle shivering of body. Also, she can hold something cold in her hands. These all things reduce nervousness to a great extent. She can distribute handout in audience which will redirect the audience. She can also ask a question or have a poll from audience. At last she can greet anxiety as it helps to stay focused.

ii. How can Anna make her presentation more effective? Suggest at least 5 strategies.

i) Redirect audience :- She can distribute pamphlets or handouts, which will give additional information as well as redirect audience which can help in overcoming nervousness and she will present more confidently.

main topic
Question 3

9 / 08 Marks

Write a note on Developing and Maintaining Self-esteem with reference to the following points:

- i. The Influence of gender and culture on Self-perception
- ii. Changing Self-Perceptions
- iii. Self-fulfilling prophecies

i) Gender and Culture influences our self-perception.
Different people from different cultures have different perceptions of them and they develop their self ^{esteem} according to their self perception. The western culture has different moral ethics and values and so do Asian people have different self-perception.

Question 4

Define the following terms:

- i. Incongruence
- ii. Ideal Self-Concept
- iii. Simplicity in organization of Stimuli
- iv. Pattern

i. Incongruence :- The false perception