

Computer Organization & Assembly Language (COAL)

If you are being taught from the handout Assembly Language Programming Lecture Notes by Bilal Hashmi of Virtual University than its chapter wise videos playlist is following

This Playlist is by Bilal Hashmi

Link1: https://youtube.com/playlist?list=PLWCKqd_RNh-7PfCiCQyKr1oVqfloscxFk&si=GXr_q5Ebgf-3P4jP

Chapter 9 example 9.5 is till CS401_Lecture25 (this was the course at our time) so watch video according to your course.

Apart from that the following playlist is also helpful to gain concepts.

These videos are from FAST Peshawar Teacher

This playlist is also helpful as every concept is explain here as well but if you are being taught from the Bilal Hashmi Handout of Virtual University than you also need to look at that playlist (Link1) because in this playlist (Link2) it is taught till chapter 7.5.

My Advice:

1. At first you might feel that the videos of Bilal Hashmi are of low quality, or you are not feeling interested, but keep in mind if just watch at least 2 3 videos with full focus and interest you will get to understand it. Force yourself to watch at least 2 videos.
2. We were taught course in NASM. If you are taught in MASM than this might help you in concepts as there is a difference in syntax.
3. If you don't understand coal then start but watching Link2 Playlist first than move to Link1 playlist. Link2 playlist videos are short, but Link1 playlist videos are detailed and long as they cover every point of chapter.
4. Explore the videos.
